

Gentex Announces Officer Change

May 21, 2013

ZEELAND, MI--(Marketwired - May 21, 2013) - Gentex Corporation (NASDAQ: GNTX), the Zeeland, Michigan-based manufacturer of automatic-dimming rearview mirrors and camera based lighting and driver-assist systems for the automotive industry, commercial fire protection products, and dimmable aircraft windows, today reported that the Company's Chief Financial Officer and Vice President - Finance, departed from those roles with the Company effective as of May 17, 2013.

"Steve Dykman is a longtime, valued associate at Gentex, and we wish him the best in his future endeavors," said Gentex Corporation Chairman and Chief Executive Officer Fred Bauer.

Mr. Bauer also said that the Company named Steve Downing, previously the Company's Vice President-Commercial Management, to succeed Mr. Dykman as the Company's Chief Financial Officer and Vice President-Finance. Mr. Downing is a summa cum laude graduate of Liberty University with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Finance and Management. The Company announced that Kevin Nash has been appointed chief accounting officer of the Company as well. The Finance and Accounting Department of the Company will otherwise remain intact. Mr. Bauer noted that: "The Gentex foundations of devotion to quality, devotion to innovation, ownership mentality, and unpretentious management give us a cohesive and cooperative leadership team with a deep bench. Steve Downing has eleven years of success and increasing responsibility in cost accounting, quotation development, forecasting, strategic partnerships, and new business development that is central to all of the Company's sales today. We view this change as an opportunity for Mr. Downing to grow his already important contributions to the day-to-day management of the Company and to further use his exceptional analytical skills."
